On Dec. 80 a local paper made this announce-Oliver Sumner Teall has organised a sleighing party, which will start from the residence of Col. W. W. Teall to merrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, for Mesaina Inn. The trip will be made on wheels if not on runpers. Mr. Teall returns to his old home in Nyracuse with a fame as a social projector which resounds throughout the Orange Mountains, and a great doal is, therefore, expected of this occasion.

seking her to send the grays and the victoria out to Syracuse for Mr. Teall's use. Mr. Teall came, but for some reason the Bangs team and victoria did not. Mr. Teall, however, was accompanied by a monumental mastiff, said to be of great value, and which was the pride of the town as long as he and his master re-

Mr. Teall had also projected an elaborate dinner, which was to be served at the Messin Inn. Plates were to be laid for 200 persons An orchestra was engaged, Mr. Teall's pro gramme including a ball as well as a banquet and from Saturday until Monday the Messing Inn kitchen was the busiest place in Onondage

Inn kitchen was the busiest place in Onondaga county.

New Year's eve came, and the preparations were complete. The orchestra arrived at an early hour, and a corps of colored walters soon afterward. The inn wore a festive aptearance. The dining room was brilliantly decorated. The dancing hall had been put in roadiness, Mr. Teall having sent word that he would expect that to be done without extra charge. Nothing was lacking but the guests. Time wore along, and still the guests did not come. At last there was a ring at the telephone. Mr. Dada, the inn-keeper, answered. It was Mr. Teall, and the word he sent was that the party were not coming. He deeply regretted the turn which things had unexpectedly taken, but he would drive out in the morning and explain. It was a severe blow, and Mrs. Dada's feelings and ideas of propriety would not suffer her to endure it in silence. This was the menu which she had prepared for the guests:

Oyster som, clam chowder, chicken salad, Galfornia salmon, boiled ham, turkey, chicken, pickled tengue, minced ham, raised biscuit, White Mountain cake, fruit cake, choolate cake, coconnut; ayer cake, ribbon cake, wainut cake, rice croquettes and felly, tes and chocolate, lee cream and fruit, codes and clagars.

wainut cake, rice croquetties and jelly, tess and chocolate, ice cream and fruit, coffee and cigars.

Mr. Teall does not appear to have been at fault for the failure of the party to make the trip. He had sent out the invitations, and had announced through the newspapers that the guests would meet at his father's house in Fayette Park. He had been at pains to engage the necessary conveyances, and at the hour appointed for the start half a dozen big carryalls were drawn up near the Teall mansion. There was a heavy rain storm, and it is said that not one of those who had been invited put in an appearance at the place of meeting. Another version has it that three persons did present themselves, and the others remained at home through a disinclination to brave inclement weather, and not from motives of personal or social iil will to the projector.

Mr. Dada's bill was $150 for dinner provided for 200 persons. He called on Mr. Teall on the Thursday after New Year's, and received in part payment a check for $37. Mr. Teall promised to see some of the people invited and get them to make up the balance. Last Saturday Mr. Teall tod him, that he had already seen nine of the gentlemen who had been invited to make the trip to Mossina Springs, and that he expected to see a number of the others during the day. He agreed, Mr. Dada says, that, before he went away, he would leave a list of the guests with Mr. Dada, so that the latter might apply to them personally for the contributions they were expected to make.

Mr. Teall did not keep his agreement, and Mr. Dada last week consulted a lawyer and was advised to get out an attachment on the valuable mastiff which, Mr. Teall brought here Mr. Dada last week consulted a lawyer and was advised to got out an attachment on the valuable mastiff which Mr. Teall brought here from his home in New Jersey. He thought that it might be well to wait a while before taking that step. He now thinks that he made a mistake in not following the lawyer's advice, and unless Mr. Teall speedily makes good the loss the projected entertainment at the Messina Inn will probably end in a suit at law.

William P. Richardson and His Wife Nam RICHMOND, Jan. 11 .- Mr. William P. Richardson of New York, formerly of New Kent, is visiting his former home on the occasion of his honeymoon, his bride being a New York belle. In honor of the visit an oyster roast was gotten up on the banks of York River. The party consisted of ten ladies and gentlemen. While waiting for the oysters Mr. Richardson stepped into a frail, cockle-shell ducking boat and l. and his bride propo pany him. Many voices were raised to dissuade her, but with a gay laugh she took her seat in the tiny oraft at her husband's side, and waved a parting salute to those who were standing on the shore. A stiff breeze was blow-ing, and soon the little boat was dancing upon the waves or hidden from view in the trough of

After they had gone some distance. Dr. G. W. Richardson and his brother Arthur, brothers of the groom, hoisted the sails of another small boat and started in pursuit. Out on the broad river, more than a mile from shore, the boats met and a race was proposed. The wind had freehened considerably, and the waves were realized, for the sails disappeared, and they saw the newly-married pair struggling in the waier and clinging to the overturned boat. Richardson held to the boat with one hand, and with the other supported his wife. It required his utmost exertion to keep her head above the water. The boat rolled over and over like a log, and three times his grasp was wrenched away. He was a good swimmer, and he followed up the boat again and again, only to have it torn from his grasp. Burdened as he was, his strength was slowly failing, but again he reached the boat and secured a firm hold, still supporting his half-drowned bride.

Dr. Richardson was nearly a mile distant when he saw the accident and quickly turned to the rescue. At length he came up to the unlucky pair, and not a moment too soon, as their strength and endurance were almost exhausted. His boat was too small to bear thacould be done was to lift the half-drowned bride into the boat and allow the husband to eling to the side until an oyster boat arrived. The bride fortunately retained her presence of mind and obeyed the directions of her husband.

PEARLINE

From the shadows have Pearline is m soap, muscle a dern soap. Now because it combined. It is the modern soap. Nowadays one cannot afford to reject a new idea because it promises "big things." These are days of "big things." Wide awake men and women are looking for them. She who refuses the aid of PEARLINE is behind the times-far behind. She might as well reject the comfort and aid of the steam car—sewing machine—telegraph—electric light, etc., because she does not believe in them. Millions appreciate Pearline, and have for years. Millions more will appreciate it—you will—why not begin at once to use it. Its prodigious popularity proves its merit—you have everything to gain, nothing to lose, therefore try it.

Beware offering imitations which they claim to be Pearline, or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—they are not, and besides are dangerous. PEARLINE is never peddled, but sold by all good grocers. Manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York.

Four Years Old. Afflicted with a Painful Nkin Disease—Six Doctors Tried to Cure him—All Failed—Got Worse and Worse— Completely Cured by One Set of Cutleura Remedies, Costing $1.76.

Our little son will be 4 years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful break-ing out of the skin. We called in a physician, who treat-ed him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, suposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form became larger in blotches and more and more distressing we called other physicians, until no less than six had at tempted to cure him, all slike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA RE-SOLVENT internally and the CUTICURA and CUTI-CURA SOAP externally, and by the last of August he ras so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the horrible malady. In all, we used less than one-half of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a little less than ne box of CUTICURA, and only one cake of CUTICURA Subscribed and sworn to before me this fourth day o
